A few minutes after the City Council refused to confirm the majority of Mayor M.E. Kirkpatrick's appointment, Kirkpatrick said a two-word summary: when he announced that socialists, friendly to him, would control the two most important committees of that body.

The event was not held last year because officers were involved in the murder investigation of Carl and Susan Hoffman. The murders occurred April 30.

ELMER ZEUGIN, talks about bees as one alights on his head.

Speaking for fellow residents of Fair Oaks Drive, and the Granite City Restaurant Association, Joe Hill presented photographs showing standing water on Nameoki Road after a recent heavy rain. Hill said the plan to correct drainage problems will be adequate if the Shoney's is built.

"I don't know how pumping in a different direction is going to solve the problem," Hill said.

He said a petition signed by 583 citizens and another with signatures of local restauranteurs, business leaders and residents. Restaurant owners in the area consider Nameoki Road "saturated" with restaurants, Hill said.

But some aldermen viewed the Shoney's issue as a signal to other businesses considering Granite City.

"This type of political infighting is the same type of thing that is preventing growth in the community. Other corporations need a signal from us. I think we need to start today," said 2nd Ward Alderman Jim Miller.

"How can we say 'no' to industry? To business?" asked 1st Ward Alderman Casmer Skubish.

Bid approved for school work

GRANITE CITY — The public will have an opportunity to look behind the scenes of the law enforcement — operation — when the Police Department, 2200 Madison Ave., opens its doors May 16 as part of Granifest '87.

On the tour will be the city's jail cells, booking and interview rooms, evidence room and locker. There will be a display of police equipment and riot gear. Other sections of the building will also be on the tour, scheduled for 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

In addition to the guided tour, refreshments will be served.

Police Chief Bill Harris said the purpose of the event is to increase community awareness of what a good facility they have." He said the jail had just been given an excellent rating by the Bureau of Inspections and Audits of the Illinois Department of Corrections.

"I'd like to see a lot of people come down," Harris said.

He hopes the open house will give the public an opportunity to meet the officers and relate to them as family members who are part of their community.

In addition to being part of the Granifest '87 open house, is being held during National Law Enforcement Week, May 10-16. Local officers will be participating in ceremonies in Springfield.

The tour is free and no advance tickets are required. It will be hosted by the department since Harris was appointed chief.

The event was not held last year because officers were involved in the murder investigation of Carl and Susan Hoffman. The murders occurred April 30.

The council accepted Cruse's appointment. Partney voted against the appointment.

"I voted no because I don't think we're doing it properly."

Business expansion proceeds in Madison

MADISON — Newly elected aldermen were sworn in and continued business expansion in Madison was discussed at the City Council meeting Tuesday.

Alderman Paul Ashford, senior alderman, was presented a plaque and accorded honors by Mayor John Bellcoff for 14 years of service to the city.

4th Ward, which did not seek re-election in April, served 1st Ward residents during his political career. A lifelong resident, he lives at 1630 Third St. with his wife, Mary. He was employed as a meatcutter for Swift & Co., for many years.

"I thank everyone who was involved in preparing this gift," he said as he accepted the plaque.

Clerk Bill Weidner swore in the new aldermen individually. Taking the oath of office were Andy Economy, 1st Ward; Ron Grzyb, 2nd Ward; John Hamm, 3rd Ward; and Norris Horton, 4th Ward.

The mayor announced the Lantner Refrigeration Co. will begin the second phase of their expansion with a 40,000-square-foot warehouse at 1600 Collinsville Avenue location. The building will be 280.6 feet by 145.3 feet.

"I feel this shows the faith the Lantner company has in the city," Bellcoff said. "It helps us keep Champaign people in the lastest warehouse addition now and a new company will be moving in when the second building is completed. This shows the City Council we can go forward and make the city proud."

Another area of future business is the Gateway Truck Plaza where a landfill operation plans to prepare a new building at the site and some land will be extended to there, Bellcoff said.

Casper Nighoghossian told the council the agreement between asphalt parking lot at Coolidge and asphalting the gymnasium and high school lots. Ron Landman, the district's director of building and grounds, said this will be the first time the lots would be asphalted, he said.

The new Coolidge lot is expected to hold 100 to 110 cars, Landman said.

The gym lot won't be increased, but the direction of parking will be changed, Landman said. This will accommodate 100 more cars, he said.

The high school lot will be widened 35 feet and new entrance and exit roads will be constructed, Landman said.

The three lots will include handicapped parking areas, he said.

Other work to be done includes a new drive in a partial area from Coolidge to the gym.

It is provided by ordinance."

City ordinance gives the mayor or authority to appoint chiefs of police and fire, but does not state that authority for assistants.

"My interpretation is that he (Moran) is serving illegally," Partney said.

The council instructed city attorney Mark Goldenberg to draft an ordinance giving the mayor authority to appoint assistants.

"That's a legitimate question. I don't know how far back ... the mayor has appointed the assistants," he said. "He believed the mayor should be able to appoint assistants."

Assistants should be appointed based on examinations, Partney said. He said he would oppose changing the ordinance, but he would support it.

"I'm not going to do it," he said. "I think he should be appointed."

"I feel the aldermen agreed with the document work that was long awaiting water line extension," Bellcoff said.

"The mayor said there is group of people interested in the purchase of city owned parcel.

"We have been dealing with two groups from the water company and that is why it has taken so long to finalize the project to extend the water line to the annexed areas. Now we can continue with the draft to present to the council at the next meeting," he said.

Illinois Chamber opposed to plan for service tax

The Illinois State Chamber of Commerce (ISCC) opposes Gov. James Thompson's No. 1 priority to raise $1 billion through tax increases, said Lester W. Brann, president of ISCC.

Surrounded by red and white signs, lapel buttons, bumper stickers and balloons, Brann said the ISCC is working to keep the taxes from becoming a reality.

"We especially oppose the governor's proposed service tax, which would mean a sales tax on personal and business services, auto repairs, amusement and recreation services, and such items as furniture, medical, upholstery and other repair shops," Brann said.

Under each category, Brann read a full page of business services he could have to charge a tax if the new law is passed.

They include photographers, funeral homes, laundries, barber and beauty shops, advertising and management consultants, equipment rentals and leasing, bowling alleys and pool halls.

"Not affected by the governor's proposal," Brann said, "are health services, legal services, selected educational services, engineering, architectural, surveying, accounting, auditing and bookkeeping services because all of them have strong lobbies in Springfield."

Besides the service tax, Brann said Thompson is proposing a 9 1/2-cent increase in the gasoline tax for road and highway improvements, along with a $17 fee in vehicle license plate fees. He also wants to end his "Build Illinois" program by putting a tax on non-prescription drugs and computer software," he said.

Thompson wants to increase the general revenue fund by increasing the income tax from 2 1/2 percent to 3 percent. The government also proposes a 10 percent increase in the personal income tax but not the corporate income tax.

In other areas, Brann said the ISCC is working for reforms in unemployment insurance, workers compensation, health care costs, environmental concerns, energy costs, and a small business incentive for hiring young people.

The ISCC proposes that small firms, those with less than $300,000 yearly gross revenue, be allowed to pay a minimum wage of $5.90 per hour (up from the current $3.35 per hour) to encourage employment of more young people.

LET YOUR EMOTIONS SHOW ...

In recent years it has become increasingly popular to "Play it Cool." Don't show your emotions or you people will think that somehow you are weak. Nothing could be farther from the truth. We only show our emotions that you feel kin to those around you and fail to let others know you and with you.

Years ago, we would go to the movies and when we movie had a sad ending, you would hear people all over the theater crying.

We would all leave the theatre with tears in our eyes. It was perfectly natural to do this then.

We cared for things and for each other and we didn't hesitate to share them.

Now, in this generation or two somehow lost these feelings of emotion? I don't think so. It has natural instincts, but we are also keeping people at a distance from us. We are not sharing ourselves with them.

When we refuse to share our feelings with others, we are telling them, "Don't try and share your feelings with me. I am not interested." We shut off all personal interaction. We refuse to share life with other people.

Sharing of life and other's experiences is one of our greater joys. What is important is to share with someone with whom you can share the joys and sorrows of life. You don't have to be related to him/her. If you have no one with whom you can share a beautiful sense of humor, then others. If you feel lonely, even if you are surrounded by thousands of people.

Many people who are married and have families feel this way. There are those who are totally isolated. Why is that? It is because they refuse to share their lives with their family. They do not want to show their emotions and feelings to them for fear that they will become vulnerable. In so doing, they do not allow the members of the family to show their own emotions.

Playing it cool, on the other hand, means being "wise," but it can be through their turning, without regret, to something else, another job, another cause. It may spare us a lot of heartache, self searching and analysis, but it can subtract feelings from marriage, family, friendship or work which is left behind.

You can share money, food or sex with another and still remain complete strangers. This is the only way that you can mean anything to another human being is through her/his feelings. It is only when you start letting your own feelings show that you open up doors for others to let theirs out.

If this is the case, why do

BOB THOMAS

President
The blind author James Thurber. It was called "My World." A song of the same name became popular about the same time. It contains words to live by.

Welcome people into your world. Show them that you have feelings and emotions just as they do, that you not that cold, detached person that you appear to be. When you open up your world to others are you invited into theirs?

When you are opening up to possible rejection and disappointment. But most of all, when you are opening yourself to a richer, more satisfying life, a life that you truly live and not a life that is spent side by side with others while remaining isolated from each other.

THE LAW AND YOU

BY RICK REED
Attorney At Law

Courts in Illinois generally allow a father to reduce his child support obligation if he has a reduction in income. The test used is whether there has been a substantial change of circumstances since the time of the divorce. What should a Court do, however, when the father voluntarily leaves a good-paying job to accept a lesser-paying position?

In Illinois, if the non-custodial parent experiences financial setbacks resulting from employment or investments, a Court may properly reduce or terminate child support. However, such a reduction in financial circumstances must occur by chance, and not as a result of the deliberate action by the one seeking the reduction.

In a 1986 case, the ex-husband was ordered to pay $20 per week for child support and $10 weekly for maintenance, or alimony. At the time of the divorce, the ex-husband was earning $13 per hour, and his medical insurance was paid by the employer. Some years later, he quit his job and moved to Florida to live with his parents. He obtained employment making $5 per hour and sought a reduction in his child support payments based upon the lower wage.

In refusing to reduce the child support, the Court recognized that there was a substantial change of circumstances. However, the change did not occur by chance, but rather was one deliberately brought about by the ex-husband. The sole reason for moving to Florida was that he wanted to be with his family and felt he would be happier there. He was aware at the time he moved that his pay scale in Florida was less. The Court noted that the father had chosen his family over what he could have earned from a well-paying job and thinking only of his own contentment and happiness.

The Appellate Court further noted that the ex-husband had failed to demonstrate that the change of circumstances had resulted in any hardship on him. In Florida, he resided with his parents, where he received medical and laundry services. He managed to find a child support attorney and still managed to pay off his debts. The Court noted that even though his income had been reduced, he still had the ability to pay support. Although he was earning less money, he was evidently able to meet his debt and obligations as well as he did when he had a better paying job in Illinois.

Some Of Us Don't Take Breathing For Granted

FOR RELIEF FROM:

Rx Sinus drainage
Nasal polyps
Post-nasal drainage
Frontal headache

Is the simple pleasure of closing your eyes, tilting back your head, and taking a deep breath of fresh morning air only a memory? It doesn't have to be.

St. Elizabeth Medical Center now offers endoscopic surgery, the latest in nasal and sinus surgery.

No other hospital in the Metro-East area offers this surgery.

The surgery, performed by ear, nose and throat specialist Jeffrey Fierstein, M.D., and his associate James Fernandez, M.D., enables extensive sinus surgery with less of the discomfort associated with past treatments.

It is surgery for those who do not respond to regular medical treatment such as long-term antibiotics and antihistamine decongestant therapy.

The process involves the use of delicate miniature telescopes and specially designed microscopic instruments to examine and remove the diseased areas of the nasal passages.

In most cases, it is an out-patient procedure lasting from a half-hour to two hours, and the patient has the choice of staying awake or taking a general anesthetic.

You can breathe freely again.

Unemployment for nurses low in state

There is almost no nursing unemployment in Illinois, with 1 percent of registered nurses actively seeking nursing positions according to a statewide survey of registered nurses published by the Illinois Department of Registration and Education.

According to the survey, 84 percent of the registered nurses listed in Illinois are employed in nursing positions. A total of 12 percent are retired or have chosen not to seek employment. The rest, except for the 1 percent trying to find a nursing job, are employed in non-nursing positions.

Barrier Awareness theme for today

To assist a positive, realistic image of people with disabilities, Gov. James R. Thompson has declared May 7 as Barrier Awareness Day in Illinois.

Spearheading the awareness campaign is Susan S. Suter, director of the Division of Developmental Rehabilitation Services. Suter said the annual event is planned to emphasize the abilities, rather than disabilities, of people with disabilities. The day will bring many physical and attitudinal barriers that still exist in society that prevent many people who are disabled from participating equally in their communities.

State to assess its constitution

Lt. Gov. George H. Ryan has been named chairman of the Committee of 50, which was established by the State Senate to examine and assess the Illinois Constitution through a series of hearings, symposiums and seminars.

The 1970 Illinois Constitution specifies that the document itself be placed on the ballot every 20 years.

Ryan said, "We will be mapping out an all-encompassing plan of action with a public discussion that will allow voters to reach a clear assessment of the 1970 Constitution, its strengths and its shortcomings."

The committee is preparing to develop a preliminary schedule of hearings.

One activity already established involved delegates to the 1970 Constitutional Convention; they will reconvene at the Old State Capitol in Springfield Sept. 17-20 to evaluate the success of the document.

Thompson taxes exceed $22,000

For the 14th consecutive year, Gov. and Mrs. James R. Thompson have released copies of their joint state and federal tax returns. They paid $19,279 in federal income taxes on a joint taxable income of $72,334. The Thompsons paid $2,828 in Illinois state income taxes.

Their total income from all sources for 1986 was $129,719.

Included were the governor's salary ($16,804), Mrs. Thompson's salary from the Mid-American Committee ($65,000), income from antique sales of $8,881, and royalties from the governor's prior authorship of criminal law cases ($1,662).

Deductions for IRAs (individual retirement accounts) and the standard deduction for a married couple who work resulted in an adjusted gross income of $122,334.

Itemized deductions of $47,145 for mortgage interest (for Chicago and Wisconsin homes), real estate taxes, interest expense, professional dues and charitable contributions to United Way, Illinois Executive Mansion Association and Children's Memorial Hospital, plus a state tax deduction of $2,240, reduced their adjusted gross income to $72,334.

Total federal tax liability for 1986 was $19,554, less $480 in child care credits. Thompson paid $205 in self-employment taxes.

Federal income tax withheld was $19,775. The Thompsons will receive a $494 refund from the federal government and $279 from the state government.

Clinton power plant now serving public

Electricity generated at Illinois Power Company's Clinton power station was sent out over company power lines to customers for the first time April 24.

The Clinton station went online at 10:30 a.m. after operating at 15 percent reactor power level and producing between 50 and 90 megawatts of electricity for the first time.

The Clinton plant is a 950-megawatt pressurized water reactor. The plant will be brought to full power in incremental steps with tests occurring at the different power levels. The plant's electric output will grow throughout the power ascension testing program.

May set aside for Older Americans

Director Janet S. Otwell of the Illinois Department on Aging suggested that the department joins Gov. James R. Thompson in proclaiming May as Older Americans Month.

"This year's theme for the Older Americans - Senior Citizens Month is 'Promote Community Work for Older People.' State Units on Aging and Area Agencies on Aging will be joining with the U.S. Administration on Aging to celebrate the opportunities and address the challenges posed by our rapidly aging society," Otwell said.

Aldermen voted correctly

The Shoney's decision was a wise one.

The city needs to diversify its business base and attract investors. Manufacturing jobs helped establish this community, but the world market for our steel and its byproducts is weak and unlikely to rebound. The situation leaves Granite City with some options for manufacturing, such as attracting automotive parts makers, but as a community we can no longer pridefully walk with noses held high when offered service-sector jobs such as those at Shoney's.

Some aldermen suggested at the City Council meeting Tuesday that Shoney's should locate downtown. The restaurant would probably work downtown, but that decision is Shoney's.

If this city is to continue to pay its workers the rate paid by cities taking in nearly twice as much revenue, or if the level of city services is to continue at its present rate, or move to a point where sewers get fixed, potential revenue sources cannot be flippanly discarded.

Fourth Ward Alderman Dan Partney was against bringing the new business to Nameoki Road. He said he thought there is too big a drainage problem and the city's plans won't resolve it. In effect, then, let's shut down Nameoki Road — businesses there have drainage problems.

Though not with the greatest grammatical ease, Seventh Ward

Alderman Emerald Dawes put it this way: "I'd like to see Nameoki Road stop building." Unbelievable.

Fortunately, the majority understands the need for new business.

Some of the best thinking on the Shoney's issue belongs to 7th Ward Alderman Jeff Worthen. He said he wasn't for Shoney's, but his wisdom in handling the restaurant ordinance is worthy of note.

He presented an amendment requiring restaurant representatives to deliver on their promises, which include making Richmond Avenue dead-end at Fair Oak Drive by building a cul-de-sac; erecting a privacy fence; and adding Street Street. The effort is one maintained by the park district. We agree the restaurant representatives should live up to any promises they've made.

The debate on new businesses coming to Granite City isn't new, but we hope to see it kept to a minimum in the future.

Second Ward Alderman Jim Miller said it well: "This type of political infighting... is the same type of thing that is preventing growth in this community. Those who are unemployed do not have a future. Other corporations need a signal from us."

By approving Shoney's, the city did give a message to other potential developers — "Welcome."

Courts expand juror list

The 3rd Judicial Circuit is right in expanding juror rolls to include those who have Illinois driver licenses.

A broader cross-section will now be available (55,000 additional persons) for jury duty, and individuals will be required to serve as jurors less frequently.

In addition, there will be one less reason or excuse not to participate in elections; in the past, potential jurors have been chosen from voter registration lists.

Weak stand by courts on taxing-process corruption

The six-month jail sentence meted out to the former Madison County supervisor of assessments, James Barton of Granite City, fails to encourage respect for the 3rd Circuit court system.

It has been apparent to many taxpayers that the case was likely to be trivialized. The main defendant is a Democrat and so are all the judges, one of whom ordered the Republican special prosecutor to spend several days pinning jail bars for contention.

The special prosecutor also was allowed to bar him from commenting further about "justice Edwardsville style." Meanwhile, defense attorneys proved they could obtain almost endless delays.

We do not pretend to be experts on the case or on the nuances of law that were applicable. It did seem that much information and evidence were available. But at the time the courts got around to sentencing Mr. Barton, a review showed that two other persons had been acquitted, one had been exonerated through dismissal of charges, one had been placed on probation, and one was still awaiting sentencing.

Combined with the jail term, $1,000 fine, 500-hour public service work and two-year probation ordered against Mr. Barton May 1, this pattern suggests something other than a stern, hard-hitting approach.

In exchange for a guilty plea, the case had been drastically narrowed, with little exploration given to whether the dozens of dismissals were in the public interest. Then, after the narrowing, doubt was cast over whether pocketed money had really been sought or desired.

In our view, much of the bedrock on which our governmental structure is built depends on public support for the concept of fair play, including real estate taxation impartially determined rather than sold to the highest bidder.

All criminal defendants are entitled to a degree of compassion, but we cannot applaud courts that so weakly "defend" one of the most basic elements of honest, sound government.

County must get its ACT together

Chairmen were Keith Parker and Norman Lesko.

The program and campaign had a two-fold impact on the area, an impact which is very important to all of us.

First, it showed unquestionably that people in the 1980s still care about our people and want you to get someone to answer that telephone.

Those basics are concern for our fellow man, sharing our values, giving money, cooperation, courtesy, and a system for America to overcome some monumental problems which we face today.

That system is a simple one — working together, peacefully, and united for a worthwhile cause.

This leads us to the second result of the weekend's activity.

Granite City has a hard-working group of people interested in developing a new image for Granite City. The activities of the American Cancer Society should be most encouraging to our community leaders.

Several times in the past few months I tried to make calls for transportation with much success without success and gave up late in the afternoon. I started calling Monday morning and had success with 3:30 p.m. I asked the young lady who answered how many phones the agency had to take calls? She said, "Three or four," and I asked her if she could get past the busy signal time after do not be surprised. If you get past the busy signal in 3 or 9 times, consider your luck.

Starting Friday afternoon, May 1, I made seven calls without success and gave up late in the afternoon. I started calling Monday morning and had success with 3:30 p.m. I asked the young lady who answered how many phones the agency had to take calls?

She said, "Three or four,"

and I asked her if she could get past the busy signal time after do not be surprised.

The next day was an outstanding success and a total community effort.

We saw our churches, their leaders and the congregations taking part, the schools, their students, their teachers and administrators doing their share; our bankers, lawyers and doctors all contributing; our restaurants our insurance companies; the Board of Realtors; our large grocery chains; our police department; our fire departments; our police arresting (and vice-versa) and having fun doing so.

We saw our mayor, our city employees, our fire department, and what a a great job our police force did, on their own time.

There were fraternal organizations — the Elks, Knights of Columbus, Moose Club, etc.

From our senior school children down to our elementary school children, people responded.

Merchants were active, a bus company brought an entire busload of employees to arrest their boss and this only interest set the trend for the entire program.

Hundreds of our caring citizens joined the Jail and Bail spirit.

Joining us were many who got up in the momentum of the two-day program and everyone pulled together and made this fundraiser one of the most successful community efforts our city has seen in quite some time.

The very same commitment and spirit of cooperation can turn our city around and send it on its way to progress and a new Granite City image.

The people of Granite City are helping given in this great effort in fighting cancer.

Whose crop are you drinking?

If you're a whiskey drinker, you've got a choice.

You can drink a Canadian Whisky, made with grain from north of the border.

Or you can drink an American bourbon whiskey made with grain grown right here in the U.S.A.: Jim Beam.

When we make Jim Beam, we buy 100% of our corn from farmers in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio.

Because it takes corn as good as yours, to make a bourbon as good as ours.

The next time you're shopping for whiskey, we hope you'll put your money behind the market for home grown grain.

We hope you'll pick up some Jim Beam. It's the world's best-selling bourbon.

And it's made with some of the world's best corn.
Yours.

Orchids growing as favorite pick

Orchids, once thought the most rare and exotic of flowering plants, grown by the few have moved into public domain. Their mystique has been dispelled.

These gorgeous blossoms are showing up in florists' shops and patios, as well as in the ever-popular corsage.

"All kinds of people are now engaged in orchid culture," said Larry Gruber, president of the Orchid Society of St. Louis.

"All enjoy orchids. They are no longer just a rich man's hobby."

Gruber, a teacher at Webster University, likes coming home and working "hands on" with his plants after working all day with the abstract.

"We now offer a wide selection of orchids for all climates and situations: much more accurate, 'no nonsense' information is available now. Many find that orchids are difficult and expensive to grow as has been proven false. Actually, it's a tough plant, hard to kill. Another common myth is that they need hot, humid climate—is also wrong. They can adapt to a wide variety of conditions and are grown on every continent with the exception of Antarctica. A few genera are "epiphytic"—that is, grown with little heat.

Most growers choose orchids for their beautiful showing and their ability to grow in almost any conditions, from the very large to miniature. Orchidaceae, the largest family of flowering plants known to science, consists of 10,000 species and hybrids. New species still are being found.

In bloom from late October through June, with flowering times sometimes as long as six weeks, the lovely plants brighten the winter environment.

Some avid growers manage to have some orchids blooming every month of the year. Certain species have a marvelous scent, especially at night.

A magnificent "slipper" orchid, indigenous to the tropics, can be found in our woods.

"The trick to growing orchids is to find which ones suit best the environment you have to offer," Gruber said. "In general, orchids like cattleyas, that large familiar variety, do well, and cymbidiums. Both ... require high daylight." Additional hours of "daylight" can be added to St. Louis days with "cool" light bulbs, available at hardware stores.

Cattleyas and cymbidiums thrive on cooler temperatures and low humidity. (Colder rainwater in pots—it can benefit all your plants.)

Growers agree it is better to underwater than overwater. You can judge whether watering is needed by picking up the pot. A plant does not need water if it seems heavier than usual.

The Orchid Society of Greater St. Louis is an excellent resource for help to grow orchids. The society's monthly meetings are fun and educational. The shows feature artistic displays of many unusual varieties, and reasonably priced plants may be purchased there. Call 657-4500 for information.

"You know, we are told all of our lives that nothing is perfect," one orchid gardener said. "When an orchid blossom isn't not only beautiful, but it is perfect. They are food for the soul."

Timing essential for grub control

By S. Gary Custis

Knowledge of the life cycle of a problem pest in your yard makes control much easier. Both less work and less materials are needed if the homeowner is familiar with the most vulnerable stage of the lawn pest.

White grubs, which are the larval stages of lawn beetles, are among the most difficult insects to control. This is because they spend most of their lives in the soil. While there, they feed on roots year-round. However, due to their ability to take up water from the soil, the turfgrass literally dries of drought. To control the grubs, the homeowner must be able to get the insecticide into the soil.

Many people are becoming concerned because they are finding a few grubs in the soil as they do their spring planting. But at this time, the grubs are doing little damage, which means significant control is not possible now.

The adult beetle can be seen around outdoor lights and on window screens during May and early June. In early July, the beetles dig down into the soil and deposit eggs that will hatch in late July. Early August is the best time to control the grubs because they are tiny and will be feeding very actively.

A previous recommendation was to have Oftanol down in early June to control the grubs any time during the summer. In recent years, however, Oftanol has reduced the soil residual of Oftanol. Mobay, the maker of Oftanol, now recommends the gardener wait until mid-July to apply Oftanol to obtain the best possible results in early August.

Other materials, such as Sevin and Diazinon, will also control grubs, but their soil residual is very short. Consequently, they should be applied only after you have noticed the grubs working in the soil.

No matter which of these materials is used, it is very important that it be watered into the soil.

Materials such as Dursban should not be applied for grub control because it will not penetrate the ground. Nor should Milky Spore be used, though sold in this area, the product is sold specifically for Japanese beetle grub, which is not found here.

If you are discovering grubs in your soil at this time, just try to ignore them. In a couple of weeks, they will be fully pupating into beetles and, hopefully, will fly to somebody else's lawn.

S. Gary Custis, an agronomist and president of the Missouri Valley Turfgrass Association, invites readers to send him their lawn care questions. Include daytime phone number and address. Write to: S. Remodeling projects add value

Location, Location, Location. If you're in the market for a house, chances are you've heard these words referred to as the three golden rules of real estate. Many people don't realize location is an equally important factor to be considered when planning major home improvements.

Because the value of your home is largely determined by the value of the homes around you, you're not likely to recover remodeling costs if the value of your home doesn't increase the values of similar homes in your neighborhood. As a general rule, you should not expect to sell your house for more than what you paid, plus the average in your area. So if you buy a $90,000 home in a $100,000 neighborhood, you probably shouldn't spend more than $30,000 in home remodeling costs.

Homeowners often overlook the way in which remodeling can actually help raise the value of their home. Many people are aware of the tax advantages of buying and owning a home; fewer homeowners equate remodeling with tax savings. By maintaining your home, you keep your remodeling efforts can cut your tax bill considerably when you eventually sell your house.

Like any other investment, you must report to the Internal Revenue Service any profit you make when you sell your house. In order to determine your profit, you must first calculate your cost by adding the cost of all improvements you have made to the original purchase price. You may add in the cost of closing costs from your original settlement sheet. Subtract this total from the sales price of your home, less any selling expenses, and you have your profit.

This record-keeping has long-term implications as well, because when you sell your home, the profit can be deferred by buying or building a more expensive home, or one of the same value and moving in within two years from the date you sold your old one.

Marlene shows legend in fascinating light

By Frank Hunter

Journal staff writer

Maximilian Schell directed the arresting film Marlene, an absorbing documentary addressing the life and times of the legendary Maria Magdalena Dietrich, who will be 86 years old Dec. 27.

Her name begins with a cress and ends like the crack of a whip. Her toughness, energy and cool eroticism prompted director Werner Herzog to observe, "She's wicked, this woman. To imagine having affairs with her—she want to depart for Tibet immediately."

When producer Karen Dirda locked up her preliminary agreement with Dietrich's Hollywood agent for Schell's film, it was immediately established that at her present age she would not appear on screen.

But Schell's film, in a series of interviews, utilizes Dietrich's throaty voice often tinged with delicious irony, as she discusses her career. It began in the early 1930s in Berlin and continued until a poignant scene shot in 1978 with the elegant Marlene standing by a grand piano and singing the title song of the film Jean a Gigo. Hearing her deliver the achingly sentimental song will melt your heart away if you are a Dietrich fan.

Marlene shows the actress as an ambitious, slight, blonde-moneymaking flipper, a 1930s film goddess, a tireless World War II entertainer of the troops and a Las Vegas lounge singer of the 1950s. She can also be a thoroughly professional theatrical hooper-drooper whom the late Edward G. Robinson pronounced "the essence of a goddess as well as a German girl reeking of mother sex."

Under director-interviewer Schell's provocative questioning, actress Dietrich admits she never watches her old films.

"I read books, all kinds of books... with books one is never alone," she rasps.

The scene is a familiar—if not ugly—one. You're at a bar with friends and a person of the opposite sex and six monthly editions of the newsletter. You can have your statement included in the newsletter for $45 for a single membership.

Here's my favorite. Super Achievers Club, P.O. Box 1722, Ansonia Station, New York 10223, 212-235-1722. The exclusive club is for the young executive who has a graduate degree, earns at least $35,000 a year, is a talented artist (you certainly doesn't earn $35,000 a year) or is a self-made success.

You fill out a questionnaire about yourself, what you're looking for and selected a package. Package No. 1 is $125 for three months; $175 for one year, and you receive five to 10 date referrals who are handicapped for you free, quite often on file. Package No. 2 is $175 for six months; $250 for a year, and you are provided as many names and phone numbers as you require to find a suitable relationship for lifelong mate.

Package No. 3 includes everything in Package No. 2 but the club's personnel act as your personal consultant. They sell personal computers and advertise until you find a marriage partner. It's $500 for a year.

Other clubs include:
• Classical Music Lovers Exchange, Box 31, Pheasant, N.Y. 10533-0031. Fee $45 for six months.

• Loveline, P.O. Box 36028, Lawrence, Kan. 66046-0602. Fee $20 for one year.

56 of the best inducted

In recognition of your contribution as a player, coach, or organizer which has helped to develop the tradition of excellence in sport in our community, including memorable performances, legends and legacies.

GRANITE CITY — So read the plaques presented Wednesday night to the 56 inductees to the Granite City Sports Hall of Fame.

Months of planning and hard work by many people paid off last night at the Knights of Columbus Hall on Old Alton Road. The original class was officially inducted in a stirring ceremony.

The honorees were those who had achieved national fame, as well as those who are famous only in this area. Twenty-one of the honorees are deceased, but most of the rest are on hand to accept their honors.

Among the most storied was Andy Phillip, a star of Granite City's only state basketball champion in 1940. He went on to become one of the University of Illinois' famous Whiz Kids and later found success with the Boston Celtics. He flew in from his California home to attend the dinner along with 600 other people.

"We are family, we are one," Phillip said. "To the people of Granite City, I say keep this going. I have been many places in my life, but Granite City will always be home."

Another honoree to speak was Francis ("Babe") Champion, a long-time member of the New York/San Francisco Giants organization after graduating from Granite City High in 1959.

"This has been a great night," he said. "But it will be an even bigger success next year. All of the inductees are very proud. Tonight is the biggest event of my lifetime."

And so it was for the rest of the "Class of '59." They include many great names from the past like John Tonoff, Lawrence McCauley, Pat Rich, Ron Hall, Gene Baker, Carl Linhart, Conrad (Babe) Champion, Francis and others include a few who are still making magic like Granite City High School soccer coach Gene Baker, who has won six state titles and would no doubt like at least one more before he moves on.

Streaking Warriors rip Flyerettes

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

GRANITE CITY — An extended winning streak is something the Warrior softball team hasn't been accustomed to in its four-year history.

Don't look now, but Jim Vrecek's team is just stretching together five in a row and they are putting themselves in a pretty good position when it comes time to seed teams for the regionals.

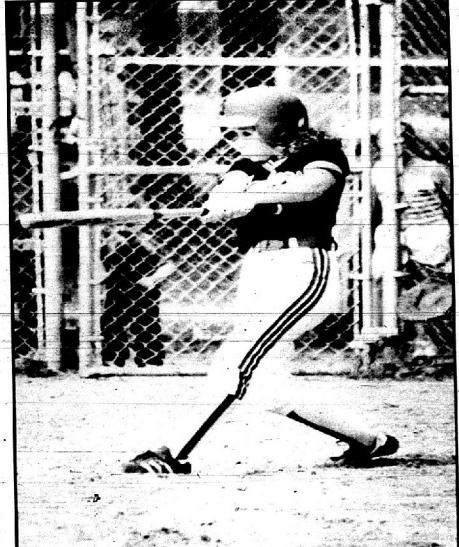

Granite City chalked up Chapter Five of the winning streak Tuesday with a five-inning 20-8 trouncing of East St. Louis in a Southwest Conference duel at Wilson Park.

"We're just doing a lot of things well right now," said Davis, who is always optimistic but has gotten down to the way now. "If we can get some reasonably good pitching we're going to surprise some people. We have the girls who pitched that all day and we're having much trouble scoring runs."

It looked for a while like they might run into the same trouble again Tuesday. The Flyerettes, who fell to 1-4 in the SWC and 3-8 overall, struck for three runs in the top of the first as they ran the bases against five Granite City pitchers. Meanwhile, seemed to still be thinking about their win over Collinsville Monday.

"They came right out at us in the first inning," Davis said.

Big Westerfield trims Warriors

By Carl Jacobs
Staff writer

EAST ST. LOUIS — Granite City's Bob Stegemeier knew East St. Louis pitcher Terry Westerfield was going to be tough on the Warriors.

To beat him, 6-2, 269-pound pitcher, his team had to bunt, get its running game started and get the junior hurler out of the game.

None of that developed for Granite City Tuesday and Westerfield went the distance, striking out nine batters as the Warriors suffered their first loss in the Southwest Conference, 1-0, to East Side, 3-1. The Warriors stayed a game ahead of Collinsville, which lost to Belleville West Tuesday.

Westerfield did more than get the win on the mound. He got the win on the mound. He got two triples leading to two of the Flyers' runs in the third and fifth innings. It was the only Flyer run in the game.

"We wanted to pitch him low but we didn't," Stegemeier said.

Stegemeier's strategy of bunt and run went out the door as Granite City fell behind in the third. "You fall behind when you fall behind, you can't bunt, hit and run or steal bases and that's our game," Stegemeier said. "We have been in a slump lately and we didn't have the key hits early to get the lead."

With two outs in the first inning, Todd Hintersmith tripled but was stranded when Al Levitt reached base on an error to lead off the second, but he was erased when Todd Adams hit a double to left East Side at bat in the first two innings while striking out two and allowing no hits. But he did get Westerfield and his team at bat and it cost him the game. Levitt fell to 5-3 with the loss.

Westerfield led off the third with a triple. Kevin Williams then ran for him and scored on a medium-range sacrifice fly by

Yellow Jackets get gift from generous Warriors

GRANITE CITY — They made their list, then checked it twice. And for a swarm of Yellow Jackets, what they got was pretty nice.

Christmas came early for New Athens' Warrior coach Bob Stegemeier said. "What can I say? We gave them the game."

It appeared he was right, on Wednesday, that sunny, breezy "Christmas" afternoon, the Warriors handed the opponent a slew of easy runs resulting in 11 unanswered runs and an 8-7, eight-inning victory.

The game started with five Yellow Jackets crossing the plate in the first resulting from a duet of walks, hits, errors and a sacrifice squeeze and a sacrifice fly.

Levitt, after being mocked by New Athens, was sent down by his defense and started Mike Krausz settled down, striking out three and giving up two hits until he was relieved in the top of the fifth.

The Warriors hopes weren't shattered, though, and after getting one run in the fourth, they came back to tie the game in the fifth.

After Yellow Jackets' winning pitcher Bruce Lischer walked shortstop Jeff Grate, third baseman Todd Hintersmith followed with a hit and a passed ball, allowing both runners to advance.

Girls soccer to have state tourney

By Dave Whaley
Executive sports editor

The Warrior girls soccer team has had a lot of fun the last few years.

They've had some great games against Collinsville and played some of the top teams from the St. Louis area. But when the regular season ended, it was all over.

The girls are facing the same fate when the season ends next Friday, but next year will be different. Beginning in 1988, Illinois Girls Soccer Association will conduct a girls state soccer tournament. The first state champion should be crowned sometime by early next year.

"We're real happy about it," said Warrior coach Mike Velloff. "It will really bring about a new approach to the way we put our teams together. We're trying to decide what our first team is at the beginning of the year."

There are 78 schools in Illinois with girls soccer programs, but only three — Granite City, Collinsville and Metro East Lutheran — are in this area. As a result, those three teams play each other once and also play the St. Louis schools, plus an occasional game against another Illinois school thrown in. That's something that might happen more frequently next year.

"The Missouri state tournaments start in mid-May," Velloff said. "And I don't think ours will start until later. So we'll probably schedule some of the north teams when we can for a couple of weeks before the tournament."

Velloff said one idea he had heard "kicked around" was to have eight sectionals throughout to left to bring in Grote. A sacrifice fly by John Moad made it 5-3 and set the stage for the Warriors to end the game. "They did hit a little bit better," Stegemeier said.

And hit is exactly what left fielder Todd Adamitis did. With one man on, he sent a towering head for a home run, tying the score and giving the Warriors another life.

Geoffrey set down the Yellow

Jackets in the sixth and seventh innings with relative ease as did Lischee to send the game into extra innings.

"Physical errors I can understand, but not when they are caused by mental errors," Stegemeier said. "You can't give up eight unearned runs and be a hall club."

The eighth inning got off to a dismal start as Hinterser committed two throwing errors which resulted in another one of those trademarked walks. And bats went to worse after the Yellow Jackets doubled, singled and drew two walks that brought in two more runs.

But those ready-to-comeback Warriors made a stab at again tying the game, but it just wasn't quite enough.

Granite City countered with two runs on a walk, an error and a long triple by Tim Hogan. But Jeff Grote fanned to end the game, dropping their record to 17-6.

For Yellow Jackets' coach Ben Howes, the win was nothing short of unexpected.

"I was surprised," he said. "I thought we would come down here and get killed. My boys played well."

Granite City was a surprise. They placed last in the league. If we played them 10 times, they would win eight out of the 10."

Devil win

WILFRED WIGFALL beats a throw to first base during Venice's 7-6 extra-inning win over Metro East Lutheran Wednesday. The triumph left the Red Devils at 6-1 in the Illinois-Gateway Conference and 8-3 overall. The play at Madison next Wednesday and finish the regular season at Metro East on Thursday.

Flyers

Darrel Perry.

"I knew this was going to be a low-scoring game, so I sent Williams," said East Side coach Art May.

The Flyers pushed another run across the plate before the inning was over.

Lawrence Moore singled, stole second and third and was singled home by Jeff Grote.

Warrior catcher Dave Bumper had Moore pegged at third but Hinterser couldn't handle the throw.

Granite City threatened in the third. After two were out, Tim Hogan reached on an error and Jeff Grote doubled, but Hinterser foul-tipped the third strike into the Warrior's glove.

Westerfield then found his groove and kept the Warriors bats quiet until the sixth. In the Flyers' fifth, Westerfield saw Tim Hogan run out for a long fly ball that sailed deep into center field. Westerfield wound up with a triple. Williams pinch ran and Perry's sacrifice fly got the run home.

Jamie Hogan hit into tough luck all day as his line drive in the third was straight at the right fielder and his hard ground ball later was right at the second baseman.

"We hit into some bad luck," Stegemeier said. "If some of the hits had fallen in, we could have gotten something started. But give credit to Westerfield. He didn't let us mount a rally and this was the toughest he has ever been on us."

The Warriors got their only run of the game in the sixth inning. Tim Hogan singled and stole second. After Grote flied to the right, Bumper scored on a wild Hogan home. But the comeback bid died when Hinterser was caught trying to steal second and LeVault struck out.

The Warriors won quickly in the seventh. Moad was Westerfield's eighth strikeout victim. Adamitis grounded out and Bumper struck out.

"These are the games I hate, the ones we are supposed to win."

Tonetta Brown walked and scored after the two wild pitches by starting pitcher Kim Pawlak. Tammy Bush stole home and Annice Chappie scored on an error.

But the Warriors came back for three of their four first RBIs with a double by Keri Holtkamp, a theft of home by Tracy Gaudette and an error. Granite City got six more in the second and only one from Flyer. Holtkamp helped the cause, Pawlak and Holtkamp both had RBIs at Fielder's choice grounders and Michelle Bequette had a sacrifice fly.

Bequette, a freshman who has stepped into the cleanup spot filled so well last year by Karen Spikes, got another RBI when she hit a double off of East St. Louis last year. Davis said his third baseman, who combined with Sykes last year for a dangerous 3-2 combination, "She didn't give up a ground ball all year. She is hitting some line drives now."

Sophomore Michelle Pinkston pitched the fifth inning and allowed four runs after getting off to a 1-0 start. But the game ended when Darlene Diggs was thrown out trying to score on a hit by Brown.

"We should be able to get a good result in the regional," Davis said. "And playing the semifinals and finals here could help us."

In addition to being the winning pitcher, Pawlak scored four runs, Holtkamp and Mills crossed the plate three times each and Holtkamp had four RBIs.

The Warriors host Roxana today, then travel to Collinsville for a game Friday.

Schreiber wins Doc Spackman Triathlon again

Sandy Schreiber of Granite City was the overall women's division winner in the Doc Spackman Memorial Triathlon May 2 in Carbondale.

It was the fourth year in a row Schreiber, a graduate student in educational psychology at SIU Carbondale, has won the event. She won with a time of 34:33, breaking the previous record she set last year of 35:07.

The Spackman event is set in and around Campus Lake at SIUC and is made up of a quarter-mile run, a quarter-mile bike ride and a two-mile run.

"The running is always the toughest part for me, although that's where I made up a lot of ground," Schreiber said. "I was fourth of fifth coming out of the swimming event, so I was pushing to catch up."

Lori Rea placed second in 35:30.

Schreiber said she runs 25-30 miles, swims 10,000 meters and bikes about 100 miles each week and is preparing for more events this weekend.

She is the daughter of Paul and Barbara Schreiber, 3340 Palmetto St., Granite City.
